

COME ALIVE IN THE VALLEY
Samantha Lowdermilk

The ladies ministry at Shady Shores Baptist Church would like to invite you to a community wide women's conference. The dates will be April 27 and 28. It will be at SSBC, located at 401 W. Shady Shores Rd. Friday (27th), we will meet at 7pm-9pm. Saturday (28th), we will meet from 9am-3pm. A box lunch will be served on Saturday. We will need your

RSVP by April 20th.

shadyladies@shadyshoresbaptist.org

940-321-6463

There is no charge for conference or meal.

We will take a Love Offering for Sam.

About Sam

Born and raised in Southern Virginia, I grew up as the baby of three and the only girl. Country, Mountains, River, Family, Jesus. These were the things I knew.

I now live in Northern Virginia, married with a daughter, Adventure, Wonder, Adoption, Calamity, Hilarity. These are the things I'm learning.

The 15 or so years of "the in-between" were spent in Texas. That's where the real lessons were. Divorce (x2), Domestic abuse, Disenchantment on so many levels. These are the things I am free from.

Then there's grace. Grace ties all the pieces together like a crimson chord.

That's the short version of me - I'd so love to share more! Contact me and we'll talk about the possible ways I can connect with you and your ladies' group.

sam@shadyladies.com

Samantha Lowdermilk

I have a story to tell. You could be surprised. Sometimes it still surprises me.

I'm surprised I lived it.

I'm surprised I survived it. More than anything, I'm surprised to find it has value.

You want to know what doesn't surprise me? Tear-filled eyes and hearts that whisper back "me too" when I open my mouth to share it.

I want to share with you how I've changed, how I've grown, and how I'm (still) healing. I'd like to show you what life can look like when we hand God our messes.

*Much love,
Samantha*

Sam will be sharing her testimony as she encourages and teaches us how to "Come Alive in the Valley"

